JULY 2 PARADE TO BE PAGEANT OF WAR EVENTS

The streets of Gettysburg will be a stage and the people in them actors.

This paraphrase of Shakespeare describes the unique July 2 parade during the centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg.

"While we are calling it a parade, it will be in reality a pageant illustrating our current strength through unity," said Adele Guthman Nathan, coordinator consultant to Pennsylvania's Gettysburg Centennial Commission.

"Happily, it will not be conglomeration of marching units, but a dramatic portrayal of the elements in United States history that have contributed to our united strength. Each unit in the line of march is a historical act or scene. In fact, the theatrical nature of the parade is the thing which prompted the Commission to engage Broadway scene designer Ben Edwards to design the symbolic floats," she said.

DESIGNS SCENES

Edwards is a 45-year-old native of Union Springs, Ala., whose credits include scene designs for Broadway plays such as "Dark At the Top of the Stairs," "Anastasia," "Medea," "The Fond of Heart," "Touch of the Poet," "A Shot in the Dark," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "Time of the Cuckoo," only to mention a few.

Edwards has proposed that the basic design of the carriage of each float be in the form of a ship, symbolizing the "ship of state" from 1865 to the present. "They would represent important elements in the post-Civil War development of the United States, for example, science, education, agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and natural resources," he explained.

"The floats will be impressive but not especially expensive," said Edwards.

RESTRICT SIZES

While Edwards is a designer of long and varied experience, the Gettysburg Centennial is the first outdoor production in his career. But even staging a production out-of-doors, he pointed out, pre-

LITTLESTOWN ENDED YEAR WITH $257,499

Littlestown ended the year with nearly twice as much in the bank as it had expended during 1962, according to the annual auditors' report for the borough as filed in the office of the Adams County clerk of courts.

The report, covering all funds of the borough, showed it spent $130,109.21 during the year and ended with a balance of $257,499.49, of which $159,347.39 is in the sewer fund.

However, all of the funds of the borough showed an increase in balance as a result of the year's operation.

GAINED $17,000

The overall report showed the town began the year with a $240,861.18 balance in the various accounts. Taxes brought in $36,747.96; licenses, $1,550; fines, $1,291.50; interest, $100.77; grants, $9,365.

Departmental earnings, $7,637.19; public utilities, $66,591.52; temporary loan, $7,500; sale of supplies, $628.60; refunds, $163.78; other income, $5,155.94; and transfers between funds $10,025.26, making the total income $146,747.52, and the total of the receipts and balance $387,638.70.

Expenditures were $11,317.66 for general government; $23,899.49 for protection to persons and property; $574.50 health and sanitation; $31,676.33 for highways; $410.84 library; $26,097.40 for operation of the public utilities; $1,866.11 miscellaneous; $23,300 principal paid on debt; $900 cash paid for investments; $41.62 refunds

Family of 10 Perishes In Fire

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Ten persons, all members of the same family, burned to death today in their home about seven miles west of Sikeston, the highway patrol reported.

Firemen from Sikeston found the home in flames at 3 a.m. and were unable to locate any survivors.

The highway patrol listed the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Paul Saville and eight children.

The children were Paul David Jr., Glenda Sue, Hester, Everett, Alvin, Henderson, Michael and Zella Mae.

Chief of Police J. T. Kindred said it appeared that the family was trapped in the one-story frame dwelling at Moorehouse, Mo. The bodies were found in two beds, Windred said.

Police said Saville was disabled. He had been supporting his family on a government pension.

Kindred said the cause of the fire has not been determined. The only apparent source of heat in the home was a coal stove.

TIRED YOUTHS HAPPY AFTER 37-MILE HIKE

There are three tired 15-year-old boys in Gettysburg today.

Eddie Thomas, James Madsen and Pete Nelson hiked from Gettysburg to Harrisburg Friday, a distance of 37 miles, in less than nine hours, despite bitter cold and one pulled a leg muscle. The boys left Gettysburg Friday morning at 5 o'clock in an attempt to match the national hiking record.

Nelson pulled a muscle in his lower leg as they were midway between York Springs and Dillsburg on the new four-lane bypass. But despite the minor injury, the boys continued to move at the rate of four miles an hour. They stopped 30 minutes for lunch at 9 o'clock and made three other five-minute stops during the trip.

TAKE BUS HOME

They arrived at the capitol building at 3:30 p.m. after checking bus departures to Gettysburg. They boarded a home-bound bus at 5 o'clock.

The boys report that the only real discomforts they experienced were cold fingers. The official temperature in Gettysburg at 5 o'clock was two degrees above zero. They wore heavy coats, hoods, earmuffs, several pairs of socks, sneakers and boots. Madsen wore three pairs of socks and sneakers.

The young hikers are agreed on one point: They're glad it's Saturday, a day of rest.

APPLE BUTTER, HONEY ON MART

For the first time this season there was no fresh pork on Farmers' Market today. Farmers report this is an "off week" and promise that ample supply will be offered next Saturday.

In other commodities apples are still in excellent condition and continue at 35c, 50c and $1.50, and eggs were strong at 50c, 55c and 60c a dozen. White potatoes continued at 25c a quarter peck and 50c a half peck measure. Turnips were 20c a large quart box.

A small quantity of dried schnitz was depleted by early morning shoppers. Home-made apple butter and fresh honey were 50c each. Fresh horse radish was 25c and 50c, medium mince and fruit pies were 50c each and personal-size fruit pies were 15c each.

Fresh farm butter was 65c, cream 40c a pint, fresh lard 15c a pound and smoked sausage 65c a pound.

Pickled eggs were 6c each, home-made potato salad was 25c a pint. Home-made cakes were $1.25 each.

BUYS COUNTY PROPERTY

C. E. Ankney, Abbotstown R. 1, this morning purchased, for $4,800, at sheriff's sale the six-acre property of Lewis F. and Wilma Ankney, Mt. Pleasant Twp. Deputy Sheriff James G. Warren who conducted the sale on the courthouse steps said the purchaser was the father of Lewis Ankney.

EX-COUNTY RETIRES

Raymond Kane, a York city bus driver for 39 years, retired last week. He is a native of Arendtsville. He had an 18-year accident-free record. He is a brother of Mark Kane, who retired about two years ago after 42 years with the bus company and its predecessor.

COUPLE WED IN XAVIER CHURCH THIS MORNING

The wedding of Miss Irene Patricia Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring L. Keller, R. 3, to Edward I. Steinberger, son of Mrs. Rosalie Steinberger, Scotland, Pa., and the late L. A. Steinberger, was solemnized this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church. The double-ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Fr. LeRoy Spisak who also celebrated the nuptial Mass.

The church altar was decorated with white pompons and gladioli. Mrs. George F. Eberhart played the traditional wedding marches by Carl Rossini. She accompanied the soloist, Paul C. Callahan, who sang "Panis Aeglicus," "Ave Maria," "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy" and "Our Father."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. It was styled with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and a basque waist. The back of the full skirt held tiny ruffles of the hand-clipped Chantilly lace. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion fell from a matching lace headpiece. She carried a white prayer book topped by white car-

HIKING MARK SET HERE IN 1820'S STANDS

While taking part in the current hiking flag, Adams Countians might compete against a mark set in the 1820's locally by Garrett Van Orsdale.

Local historian Jacob M. Sheads has unearthed from his records details of the "speed march" Van Orsdale made about 140 years ago when, to win a $25 prize plus a share in the bets made, he walked the 24 1/2 miles from the "lighthouse" in Chambersburg to Gettysburg in three hours and 46 minutes.

According to an undated article copied from The Compiler, the original wager was that Van Orsdale could not walk the distance in less than four hours.

FINISHED STRONG

The Compiler said, "It appears it can be done in 14 minutes less than four hours, in fact some say 15 to 15 1/2 minutes below the time." "When (Van Orsdale was) traveling the 18th mile some persons remarked he was beginning to fail. To show the incorrectness of this assertion, he walked the 19th mile in seven minutes. The last three-quarters of a mile were passed over in less than four minutes.

"The following calibrations have been handed us: 24 1/2 miles in 3 hours and 46 minutes. This will be one mile in nine minutes, 15 seconds, 570 feet in one minute, five feet, six inches in one second.

"Mr. Van Orsdale received, we understand, a share in the amount of bets and $25 besides, amounting to $60 or $70."

Fairfield Native Was 96 On Friday

William Washington Winebrenner was 96 years old Friday.

He has said that he is proud to have been born on the same day as George Washington and to carry the president's name as his middle name.

He was born in Fairfield on February 22, 1867. His late wife, Emma Colliflower Winebrenner, lived to help her husband celebrate their 63rd wedding anniversary.

They resided at Highfield, Md., for 65 years and he owned and operated a tin shop and general store for 60 years. Since his retirement and the death of Mrs. Winebrenner, he has spent his winters in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where his daughter, Mrs. Carrie Arnold Lives.

It is reported that Winebrenner is now enjoying fair health in Fort Lauderdale.

Reminds 42 Jurors They're Not Needed

The Adams County court today reminded the jurors who were originally scheduled to begin hearing civil cases Monday that they should not report for duty.

All of the civil cases scheduled for the current term, with one exception, have been settled. The one case listed will be heard without a jury, and that hearing will take place March 13. There will be no open court next week. The court did not send notices to the 42 jurors listed for civil cases believing that reports in the newspaper and over radio during the last would be sufficient to notify all that they should not report for duty Monday.

CENTENNIAL STAMP RATES 2ND IN POLL

The public generally would have chosen another of the designs submitted in the contest to select the U.S. postage stamp to honor the centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg.

A report by Belmont Faries, stamp editor of the Washington Star, appearing in that newspaper, said the design chosen by the post office for the stamp is "running a poor second with the public."

The public was asked to write to the Post Office Department stating its choice among the various top designs selected from the 955 entries in the contest by the Stamp Advisory Committee to check the advisory committee's opinion against the public's opinion.

IN SECOND PLACE

Of the first 10,296 replies received by the Post Office Department, the bullet-pierced cap design of Russell H. Hill had received 5,163 of the votes cast, or 50 per cent of the total.

Second place in the popularity poll was the design by Roy Gjertson, which had been chosen for the stamp. Gjertson's design

Red Threat Of Third War If U.S. Defends Attacks By MIGs Called Bluster

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently unimpressed, official Washington has shrugged off the new Soviet missile flexing over Cuba as "blast and bluster" propaganda.

The threats from Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky were regarded as blood-and-thunder morale builders—both for at home and for Fidel Castro's regime.

In a Moscow speech Friday, marking the eve of the 45th anniversary of the Soviet armed forces, the Red marshal warned that if Americans attack Cuba, it will mean a third world war and nuclear devastation for the United States.

USUAL "ORATORY"

The usual type of oratory "you expect on the 45th anniversary of the Soviet armed forces," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk. But speechmaking, he added, isn't going to change "the combination of forces in the world."

G. M'DANNELL, ORRTANNA R. 1, DIES OF STROKE

George D. McDannell, 80, a retired fruitgrower, farmer and lumberman, died Friday morning at 10:35 at his home, Orrtanna R. 1. He had suffered a stroke February 10 and had been bedfast since.

A native of Adams County, he was a son of the late Daniel and Barbara (Baker) McDannell and a member of St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church. His wife, the former Mary Saum, died in 1934.

Surviving are two children, Paul McDannell and Miss Hazel McDannell, both at home; 17 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Jacob and Charles McDannell, both of Orrtanna R. 1, and four sisters: Mrs. Mary Forsythe, Gettysburg; Mrs. Lydia Marshall, Dillsburg; Mrs. Ellie Powell, Orrtanna; and Mrs. Annie McCracken, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Tuesday morning with meeting at 9 o'clock at the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., to go to St. Ignatius Loyola Catholic Church, Buchanan Valley, for a requiem Mass at 10 o'clock at which Rev. Fr. Louis Yeager will officiate. Interment in the St. Ignatius Loyola Church Cemetery. Friends may call Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home. The Rosary will be recited there Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

PRESENT SKIT AT B-G DINNER

A skit dramatizing Lincoln's Gettysburg Address highlighted the annual blue and gold dinner of Cub Pack 160 Friday evening at Christ Lutheran Church.

The skit was presented by Den 1 under the directions of Mrs. Druid Deitch. Mr. Deitch served as narrator and read the Gettysburg Address as Cub in costume portrayed scenes depicting the birth of the nation, the equality of men, the Civil War, the dedication of a final resting place for the war dead, a new birth of freedom and concluded with a salute to Abraham Lincoln and the flag as the Cub sang a chorus of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Gardners Trailer In Fatal Mishap

A Gardners trailer was involved in a car-truck accident that took the lives of two men on the Pennsylvania turnpike near the Irwin interchange late Wednesday.

Elwood E. Markel, 31, Spring Grove R. 3, was uninjured and continued his trip to the midwest after the crash. Killed in the accident were Frank J. Trun, 23, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Jose R. Morales, 22, New York.

They were passengers in a small foreign-made car driven by Cornelius Jones, 24, New York, who was admitted to Mousour Hospital, Jeannette, with multiple injuries and shock.

State police reported the car passed the tractor-trailer driven by Markel, went out of control, ran off the road, hit an embankment and bounced back onto the road into the path of the truck.

Markel is the owner of the tractor and was hauling a trailer owned by Kuhn Transportation Company, Inc., Gardners.

Quake Toll Exceeds 250

AL MARJ, Libya. Delayed (AP) — Dawn broke Friday to reveal the full horror of the earthquake which struck this Eastern Libyan city of 11,000 Thursday night.

Huddled together, dazed and injured, residents of the city saw in the early light the full extent of the damage done by the quake which struck suddenly at 7:15 p.m. Thursday.

Nearly 70 per cent of the city was in rubble. Stone and mud houses collapsed instantly. Concrete buildings were left twisted by the first quake, which was followed by tremors. In 15 seconds, the city, located in a fertile valley 50 miles northeast of Benghazi, was in ruins.

More than 250 dead and 500 injured were counted by Friday morning. The toll was expected to mount as rescuers continued the grim search for victims.

COOPERATIVES ARE TOPIC FOR RURITAN TALKS

"The cooperative is the truest example of free enterprise," members of the Hunterston Ruritan Club were told at their February dinner meeting Friday evening at the Great Conewago Presbyterian Chapel.

The program was presented by John Kershaw, manager of the Adams Electric Cooperative, and Edwin Kann, public relations director for the cooperative. The men traced the growth of the Adams Electric Cooperative from its incorporation in 1940 with 300 members to its present 7,500 members served along 1,500 miles of lines in Adams, Franklin, York and Cumberland Counties. The cooperative which started on borrowed funds now have over $4 million invested and is obligated to furnish electrical current to any one requiring it in rural areas.

The clubmen were told the electric cooperative was formed because rural residents in this county 23 years ago were often unable to get electrical service from utility companies because of the high costs involved. The club was shown colored slides on cooperative farming.

President Emory Seibert presided at the meeting at which plans were made for a Farmers' Night program at the next meeting March 22 when State Senator D. Elmer Hawbaker will be the speaker. Members will bring farmer guests to the meeting.

The club made plans for the annual community Easter egg hunt on Easter Sunday. Details of the plans will be announced at the next meeting. The clubmen discussed seeding part of Ruritan Park this spring.

Anthony Dalezio Jr., was introduced as a new member of the club.

The speakers were introduced by Donald P. Rhodes. Six members and a number of guests attended. Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church served the meal.

MRS. SNIDER EXPIRES TODAY

Mrs. M. Elizabeth Snider, widow of Mark R. Snider, died this morning at 12:50 o'clock at the Pape Convalescent Home, Gettysburg R. D. Before becoming a guest at the home, she had resided with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, 402 S. Queen St., Littlestown. She formerly lived on Hanover St., here.

A daughter of the late Silas H. and Mary E. (Sheely) Horner, she was a member of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. Her husband died in August, 1917.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Baumgardner; three granddaughters, one great-granddaughter; a brother, Stanley S. Horner, Littlestown; four sisters: Miss Mary A. Horner, York; Mrs. Ethel W. Brown, York; Mrs. Ray T. Gibbs, Ypsilanti, Mich.; and Mrs. Chester A. Shriver, Gettysburg R. 1; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Little Funeral Home, Littlestown, with the Rev. Robert MacAskill, her pastor, officiating. Interment in Piney Creek Presbyterian Cemetery near Taneytown. The family has asked that in lieu of flowers donations be made to the Heart Fund.

Sarah L. Strausbaugh, Gettysburg R. 3, has been admitted as a patient in the Hanover Hospital.

Goodling Told FCC Office Here Must Be Closed

Congressman George A. Goodling, representing the Adams-York-Cumberland District, has been informed that the transfer of the FCC offices here to Washington in August was done as a matter of "economy, efficiency and speed."

Goodling, apprised of the scheduled transfer, immediately conferred with officials of the FCC in Washington who prepared and submitted to him a complete report on the study and findings preceding the order to close the local office. Congressman Goodling forwarded the report to The Gettysburg Times. It is presented here with in full:

"About three and one-half years ago the suggestion was made that the Federal Communications Commission should explore the desirability of using an electronic computer in connection with parts of its work. It was suggested that the Commission might find it more efficient, speedier and cheaper than manual procedures then being employed.

STUDY IS ORDERED

"Accordingly, the Commission set up a staff committee to study the matter. Subsequently, the Bureau of Standards was asked to make a detailed feasibility study of Commission operations and to prepare recommendations as to whether a computer system might be desirable. Later the management consulting firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton, under contract with the Bureau of the Budget, examined the Commission's functions, organization, procedures and workloads and gave special study to the possibility of making use of a

Presbyterians Are Asked To Tithe

In line with an emphasis on tithing from Lent to Pentecost by the Pennsylvania Synod of the United Presbyterian Church, the Gettysburg Church has adopted this emphasis and is making presentations to the various groups of the church urging members to give tithing a trial during that period.

On Sunday morning at the worship service in the Church of the Abiding Presence, the pastor, the Rev. Robert MacAskill will preach on "Spiritual Life Through Tithing." The Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Harold Closson, will sing the anthem, "Prayer," by Hokanson and the Youth Choir, directed by Paul W. Grove, will sing the anthem "Lead Us, O Father," by Gluck.

3 Bigler Singers In State Chorus

Miss Carolyn Starry, first soprano, Miss Carol Crum, second soprano, and Thomas Osborn, first tenor, of Biglerville High School are participating in the regional three All State Chorus today at Plymouth-Whitmarsh High School, Plymouth Meeting, near Philadelphia. They are singing with a chorus of 240 voices from 90 high schools.

A student concert was presented Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, a concert for the public Friday evening at 8 o'clock, and another concert for the public this evening, Marcellus Kuhn, supervisor of choral music at Plymouth-Whitmarsh, is host, and the guest conductor is Donald Mathis, St. Petersburg, Fla.

C. L. Yost accompanied the Biglerville pupils to Plymouth Meeting Friday. The students are being housed by patrons of the Plymouth-Whitmarsh High School.

Asks Halloween Committee Names

Mrs. Robert Harpster, secretary of the local Halloween committee, today reminded organizations of the community that they have been asked to notify her by March 1 of their representatives on the community Halloween committee.

Mrs. Harpster hopes to have all the representatives named by March 1 because of plans to hold a meeting of the representatives March 20 at 8 p.m. at the VFW home, E. Middle St., to reorganize Gjertson is a free lance artist from California. Hill resides in Gordon, Wis., but until recently worked in the Washington, D. C., area.

The advisory committee in selecting the Gjertson design held it "strong both in art and narrative terms, with the division of the country in the Civil War battle represented by the split background of blue and gray." The Hill entry merged the blue and gray into a neutral color and the bullet-pierced cap was of a type worn by both sides. The advisory committee had rated the Hill entry as "excellent artistically" but held it "too weak for satisfactory stamp design."

$1,000 Fire Loss For Farm House

Bendersville firemen were summoned Friday night at 11:35 o'clock to the Breeswood farm house occupied by James Chronister when a chimney fire got into the partitions of the home. Firemen, who remained at the scene until 1:30 this morning, estimated damage from the blaze at $1,000.

Three Divorces Are Granted Here Today

The Adams County court handed down three decrees in divorce this morning as follows:
Robert E. Strausbaugh, 133 N. Fourth St., from Patricia Louise (Dubs) Strausbaugh, Long Island, N.Y.
Emma C. (Shrader) Noel, 4 Carlisle St., New Oxford, from Paul F. Noel, Hanover R. 4.
Nadine Zoe Ecker, Hanover R. 5, from Kenneth Allen Ecker, York.

The latter divorce was accompanied by a court opinion ruling that, while Mrs. Ecker had charged desertion and indignities to person, the charge of indignities was supported by the testimony but the charge of desertion was not. As a result the divorce was granted on the grounds of indignities.

BLUE AND GOLD DINNER IS HELD

Cub Pack 163 of Two Taverns held its Blue and Gold banquet Thursday evening at the church hall in Two Taverns. The hall was decorated with blue and gold streamers. Rev. Mark Heiney gave the invocation. A roast chicken dinner was served and for dessert, Mrs. Heiney had baked a cake decorated in blue and gold. Guests were Stanley Rogers, Scout executive, and his family. The dinner was served by a Sunday School class, and the Scoutmaster Richard Meyer, and a group of Boy Scouts helped to serve.

After the dinner a streamer of national recognition was presented to Cubmaster Robert Dayhoff by Rogers.

Two-year service stars were presented to the following: Gary Brame, Dennis Gladhill, Carl Gouden, David Hartlaub and Bruce Leatherman. One-year service stars were presented to the following: Clarence Andrew, Edward Gebhart, James Gebhart, Neil Rothaupt and James Gouden.

A Bear Badge was presented to George Lambert, a gold arrow under the Wolf Badge to Joseph Adams; a silver arrow under the Wolf Badge to Clarence Andrew and a gold and silver arrow under the Wolf Badge to James Hoak.

The following were advanced to Boy Scouts: Carl Gouden, Edward Gebhart and James Gladhill. The next pack meeting will be held March 21 at Two Taverns.

STATE REGENT

librarian, and Mrs. Clarence W. Wilson, press relations. She paid honor to the following past regents who were present: Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, 1945-48; Miss Alice L. Black, 1948-51; Mrs. Leifer, 1951-53; Mrs. Harold H. Reuning, 1956-59.

Mrs. George F. Good introduced Miss Carolyn Musselman, who gave two vocal solos, "Nina Bobo," a Japanese lullaby, and "America, My Own." She was accompanied by Miss Cynthia Rosenberg. Both young ladies are students at Gettysburg College.

Mrs. Sayre prefaced her address by calling attention to the fact that the society is 72 years old and that during the past year 7,558 new members have been received, more than 26 per cent of whom are women under 35 years of age. She spoke of her participation in the sixth annual bus trip to the DAR supported schools. The schools visited were Blue Ridge School, Greene Co., Va.; Crossnore School, Crossnore, N. C.; Tamassee DAR School, Tamassee, S. C.; Berry Schools, Mt. Berry, Ga.; Kate Duncan Smith DAR School, Grant, Ala., and the Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn. She closed by saying, "The opportunities we offer the young people through the two committees alone—the American Indian Committee and the DAR School Committee—are enough to fire our members with enthusiasm. Tell this DAR story to your friends and neighbors and let us grow in membership and service."

Mrs. Smith presented Mrs. Sayre with a check from the local chapter to furnish two small rooms in Continental Hall and two school rooms.

Mrs. Leifer and Mrs. Good were chairmen of the hostess committee.

The next meeting will be held March 1 at the home of Mrs. John A. Hauser, Biglerville.

PRESENT SKIT

Cubmaster Russell Schwartz presented a bear award to Gregory Deitch and introduced Stanley Rodgers, Black Walnut District Scout executive, who presented pack awards.

Melvin Sargent, neighborhood commissioner, presented the pack's new charter to the Rev. Dr. Robert Koons, pastor.

At the opening of the meeting, the Cub Oath was led by Alfred Heikkinen and the Pledge of Allegiance by Thomas Hodges. Dr. Koons gave the invocation. The arrangements for the covered dish supper were made by this committee: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shrader, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Eyer, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Wentz and Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Wetzel. Milk for the dinner was donated by Conewago Dairies, coffee by the Schwartz Washette, ice cream by the Delvalve Company and candy by Dr. W. E. Tiberg, the institutional representative for the pack.

Mrs. V. C. Hughes, Crestwood, Guernsey, has returned home after spending some time visiting friends in Miami and Tampa, Fla.

The Biglerville High School PTA will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the school library. Miss Ana Maria Olivera, Biglerville High School foreign student from Uruguay, and Sigfrid Bach, Gettysburg High School foreign student from Sweden, will discuss school life in their native countries and here in the United States.

Mrs. James Keegan returned Friday to Cambridge, Neb., after spending the week with her uncle, Charles E. Raffensperger, Biglerville.

Nineteen members and guests attended a covered dish supper by the Biglerville Kitchenettes Thursday evening in Biglerville High School cafeteria. After the supper, games were played. Plans were made to hold a food sale in the beginning of April with the date to be announced later. The next meeting will be held March 21 at the same place.

The Trilogy Club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Allen Stauffer, Biglerville.

Fertilizer Meeting On March 2 At BHS

Measured Soil Foods of Biglerville has announced a foundation fertilizer meeting for next Saturday in the Biglerville High School auditorium from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Registration will begin at 9:30 o'clock. There will be gifts for all and door prizes.

Two extension representatives from Pennsylvania State University will speak. They will be Wayne Hinish, an extension agronomist, and County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettle. Both liquid and dry fertilizer spreading equipment will be on display. Measured Soil Foods, which became the first bulk blender of fertilizers in the east, formulates more than 6,000 analyses of fertilizing and this spring is introducing liquid nitrogen. It is being sold to farmers and applied on their fields by MSF equipment and personnel. The new liquid nitrogen program will be explained at the session next Saturday.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Dr. Lawrence Fitch, dean of the Pennsylvania State College of Optometry, has announced that Donald Lawver, son of Dale Lawver, R. 6, has been placed on the dean's list for superior scholastic achievement during the first semester of the academic year. Lawver was graduated from Biglerville High School in 1950 and completed his preprofessional college study at Gettysburg College.

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP)—Earl C. Kaylor, associate professor of religion at Juniata College, has been named the school's head baseball coach.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A burglar with a sense of humor broke into the home of a state capitol secretary Friday, picked up a $146 coin collection and left behind the following note:

"Just happened in to say hello."

BUSINESSMEN VANISH FROM TOWN OF 1,500

TROY, Pa. (AP) — Two businessmen have vanished from this northeastern Pennsylvania town of 1,500 and police are admittedly hard pressed for clues.

The two—Loron Leonard, 38, manager of the Troy Equipment Co., and Jerome Blaine, 45, partner in a leather goods firm and father of ten—disappeared earlier in the week within 24 hours of each other.

Police, however, said Friday night they do not believe the disappearances are connected.

Leonard managed the equipment company, a farm machinery outlet, where he was one of three employees. He was last seen Monday afternoon when he left work for his home in Athens, about 35 miles north of here.

His wife reported him missing when he did not arrive home.

Blaine, a partner in the Penn-L Leather Goods Co. and a resident of Troy for about two years, disappeared Tuesday afternoon.

Police said he left his office saying he was going to Elmira, N.Y., just over the state line. His wife later received an air insurance receipt from the Elmira Airport.

Officer Ted York of the Troy police said he had been told Blaine's brother, whom he described only as living somewhere in New York state, had heard from the missing man.

He said the brother apparently received a call from Kansas City sometime after Tuesday night. York said there was no apparent connection between the two missing men, in either their business or social lives.

In fact, York said, police had been unable to ascertain whether the two even knew each other.

Penn-L, which employs 32 persons, had just completed several government contracts for mail bags and Marine Corps belts. Blaine's partner, Herman Wagner Plattsburgh, N.Y., appointed a plant employee acting manager to keep the business running until he can get here.

DEATH

Mrs. Milton E. Baublitz
Mrs. Mary Edna Baublitz, 71, Hanover, widow of Milton E. Baublitz, died Thursday at 4:35 p.m. at the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Baublitz, Hanover, after a two-week illness.

Mrs. Baublitz was born in Adams County May 22, 1891, a daughter of the late Israel and Amanda Harbold Simpson. Her husband died November 15, 1942. A former employee at Revonah Spinning Mills, Hanover, Mrs. Baublitz retired three years ago. Surviving, in addition to her son, Lewis, are four other children, Harry L. Baublitz, Hanover R. 5; Glenn L., 401 South St., McSherrystown; Mrs. Raymond Gass Jr., Hanover, and Charles E. Baublitz, Dover R. 5; 12 grandchildren; one great-grandchild; a brother and a sister, Charles N. Simpson, York, and Mrs. Ida Berkeimer, Hanover. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Bucher Funeral Home, Hanover. The Rev. Nelson H. Andres, pastor of Grace United Church of Christ, Hanover, will officiate. Burial will be in Stiltz Cemetery, Glen Rock R. 3. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Gambling Fines Ordered Returned

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A Schuylkill County judge has ordered $19 each returned to 10 men who were arrested in a gambling raid and convicted of disorderly conduct.

Presence in an alleged gambling establishment does not constitute disorderly conduct, President Judge James J. Curran ruled Friday.

The 10 men were arrested by state police in a raid in Shenandoah. They were fined $10 each and $9 costs. All appealed, contending there was no noise and they were not gambling.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Time is running out for Pennsylvania to shoulder the responsibility for education, Gov. Scranton said here Friday night.

Scranton, in prepared remarks for the Purple Heart Club, said the state's citizens must ask themselves how much they are willing to give, in the spirit of George Washington, to serve their fellow citizens.

"Our schools must prepare young men and women for the age of space while at the same time make available to them the fruits of centuries of Western civilization," he said.

"Every citizen must get involved in this," he said.

POLICE REMINDER
Borough police at 9:30 Friday night stopped a tractor trailer headed east on the Lincoln Highway at the request of state police who, according to the local police call sheet, asked that the vehicle be halted because the driver had left the Tick Tock atop Mt. Newman without paying a bill.

NEWSAPER LAUDS LITTLE ON HIS RECORD

Marsby C. Little, former Gettysburg resident and onetime assistant Adams County superintendent of schools, who served 18 years as superintendent of schools in Waynesboro, and who resigned this week from the post, was praised Thursday by the Waynesboro "Record Herald" newspaper in its lead editorial.

The editorial, entitled "Dedicated Educator," follows:

"The retirement of Marsby C. Little as school superintendent gives us mixed feelings: Joy for him in his projected release from rigid duties, but regret at the loss of a good administrator.

"During his 18 years here as superintendent of schools, almost-constant change has been the way of life for him and his schools. Curriculum, methods of teaching, and buildings have been altered time and again in efforts to keep the Waynesboro schools as up-to-date as possible.

"Superintendent Little has been praised many times during these years for his abilities, and his schools have shown good results of his work.

"Just as often (or perhaps more often) he has been condemned by critics. He has been accused of faulty judgment, inaction or fence-sitting. He has been said to be too optimistic on occasion, or too negative.

"He has been maligned by those who said he knew nothing of modern education. Others have thought him too progressive.

"Those who know him well, however, know him to be an outstanding school administrator who always has been dedicated to his work and to the continuing betterment of education.

"His future plans, while still open, definitely will find him active as an educator in a role of importance. His 18 years as head of this area's school system prove he will be well-fitted for whatever lies ahead."

JULY 2 PARADE

sents limitation similar to the theater. The height of floats is restricted by utility wires and trees. He has completed a survey of the parade route to make certain that floats will clear all obstacles.

Mrs. Nathan explained that each of Edwards' floats will be a stage on which an historical act will be performed. The "actors" will be Adams Countyans who the Adams County Civil War Centennial Committee will be asked to select.

Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, commander of Pennsylvania's 28th Division, has been named grand marshal of the parade by Commission Chairman Lt. Gen. Milton G. Baker. He estimated that the terrain of the Borough of Gettysburg will limit the parade route to approximately one and a half miles. It will take approximately two hours to review.

ROSE A. FELIX BRIDE TODAY OF ROBERT SMITH

The marriage of Miss Rose Ann Felix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Felix, 539 Main St., McSherrystown, to Robert Bernard Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Smith, Hanover R. 4, was solemnized this morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of the Annunciation, McSherrystown, by the Rev. Fr. Lawler who performed the double-ring ceremony.

MRS. SMITH

Jeanne Seymour presided at the organ and the children's choir sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon lace and net, floor length, with a scoop neckline of pearls and sequins. Her veil fell from a crown of net braided with pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white roses and lace.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas Carbaugh, Hanover, R. D., wore a dress of lavender chiffon over yellow taffeta.

The bride attendants were Miss Joan Marie Snyder, Fairview Ave., McSherrystown, who wore a gown of blue nylon over taffeta, and Miss Winona James, Third St., McSherrystown, who wore mint nylon over taffeta.

The best man was Lawrence Leonard, 229 Ridge Ave., McSherrystown, and the ushers were Joseph Thoman, 230 Third St., Hanover, and Philip Staub, 370 Main St., McSherrystown.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Friendship Fire hall, Pennville, Hanover. The couple will reside at 200 Main St., McSherrystown.

The bride is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School in the class of 1960 and is employed by Middleburg Manufacturing Co. The groom graduated from the same school in the class of 1958 and has served four years in the U.S. Air Force. He is employed by Sheets Bros.

with heart-shaped seed pearls and sequins. Her mitts were of matching lace and she carried a white Bible adorned with a white orchid and ribbon streamers.

TWO ATTENDANTS
Her matron of honor, Mrs. Jaes C. Behney, sister-in-law of the groom, York Springs R. 2, wore a street-length dress of orchid nylon net and acetate taffeta with a cummerbund of chiffon and a matching jacket of lace.

She carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations and wore white mitts and shoes. Her headpiece was a floral bandeau.

James C. Behney, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a light blue wool dress with a white rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore beige, trimmed in lace, with a pink rosebud corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Behney, after which the couple left for a weekend wedding trip to an unannounced destination.

For traveling the bride chose a pink wool suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the groom.

The bride attended New Oxford High School and is employed at the Sylvania Shoe Co. in McSherrystown. The groom attended York Springs High School and is employed at the Hanover Shoe factory.

OFFER ASSISTANCE
"We also informed them that we would do everything possible to assist them in getting other jobs if matters reached that stage. We left them with the assurance that we would very shortly send them individually all the material we could as to their rights, their possibilities in the Commission, and other materials which might be helpful in the situation in which we find ourselves. Our manpower utilization staff has been working on these materials and we hope to be in touch with our Gettysburg people within a matter of days."

"To sum up, the Bureau of Standards and Booz, Allen and Hamilton studied the matter carefully and advised that we should in the interest of efficiency and economy install a computer system to take over, among other things, the operations now being performed in Gettysburg. The Bureau of the Budget and the Appropriations Committees of the Congress have been kept fully advised and have approved our computer program, including its Gettysburg aspects. There has been no disagreement at any stage with the logic that amateur and citizens license processing could be done more efficiently, more rapidly, and more cheaply by use of a computer. We are doing our best to minimize the personnel impact of this system but it has to be recognized that these dollar savings can only be accomplished by reduction in our payrolls."

SEALID BIDS
Sealed proposals will be received and publicly opened by the Supervisors of Cumberland Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, at Gettysburg R. 2 until 7:30 p.m. March 8, 1963, for the following:

A. 2,000 tons, more or less, of crushed stone, of various sizes, delivered to township roads, or f.o.b. quarry.
B. 10,000 gals., more or less, of No. 1 asphalt, delivered and applied on township roads.
C. 10,000 gals., more or less, of No. 2 asphalt, delivered and applied on township roads.

Proposal forms and instructions to bidders may be obtained at the home of, or by writing to, Lawrence J. Helzel, Secretary, Board of Supervisors, Gettysburg, Penna. The materials specified herein shall meet the Standard Specifications of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

The successful bidder, when awarded the contract, shall furnish a bond with suitable, reasonable requirements guaranteeing performance of the contract (or delivery to be made) with sufficient surety in the amount of 50 per centum (50%) of the amount of the contract.

All proposals must be upon the form furnished by the undersigned. The supervisors reserve the right to reject any or all proposals.

reau of the Budget and the Appropriations Committees of both houses have been kept informed as to our progress in our studies and developmental work; specific requests have been set forth in our budget estimates and justifications; and the subject has been discussed each year with the Appropriations Committees.

ORDER COMPUTER

"This matter culminated last spring in a direct allowance in our 1963 Appropriation Act for the purchase and installation of an electronic computer. A contract was then made with Sperry Rand for the purchase of a UNIVAC III at a cost of approximately $1,000,000; delivery is expected about July 15, 1963.

"Based upon the foregoing studies and Congressional authorization we have proceeded to develop systems and plan our work on a schedule which calls for conversion of work operations from manual procedures to computer processing beginning about the first of August. Amateur and citizens radio licensing are the first operations to be converted over a period of a year or so.

"Our Gettysburg office has 26 employees. The work now performed by these employees will be almost completely absorbed by the computer system. The resultant saving in personnel services costs was a substantial part of the economic justification for the computer system. In addition, there was the justification that the computer system will process amateur and citizens radio licenses a great deal more promptly than has been possible by manual procedures.

STUDY NEW WORK HERE

"At several points in our studies the question has been raised, and it was discussed with the Gettysburg people a week ago, as to the possibility of doing certain allied clerical work, such as card punching, in our Gettysburg office, thus making it possible to retain a sizable clerical staff in Gettysburg. This matter has been analyzed most thoroughly and the facts demonstrate that this would be time consuming, inefficient, cumbersome, and more costly than the system we plan to install.

"About two weeks ago we discussed this whole matter in great detail with our Gettysburg staff. We considered it important to tell the affected staff as far ahead as possible, actually more than five months ahead, as to what the future held in store. We explained to them the background of the subject. We inquired as to how many would be willing and able to accept jobs in Washington. We told them that we were giving careful study to the possibility of moving some other activity to Gettysburg in order to save their jobs; we explained that this was a difficult problem and that as of right now we could not promise that this could be done because we had to give first thought to the over-all public interest.

Expenditures included payment of premiums of $1,468.10 and a refund of $775.71 representing his payments into the fund over the year to one of the policemen who resigned from the force. FRAILEY GETS AIRLINES POST

David C. Frailey, a native of Emmitsburg, has been appointed system director of news and information services for American Airlines, with headquarters in New York City, it was announced by Karl Dahlem, assistant vice president public relations.

He has been based in Chicago since 1953 in charge of the airline's central area public relations bureau, which embraces 14 midwestern states.

In his new post, he will direct and coordinate the company's external news service and an internal information program that includes a weekly management newsletter, a weekly company newspaper and biweekly newspaper published at the company's Tulsa, Okla., maintenance base.

A graduate of Mount St. Mary's College, Frailey was an Associated Press news editor before joining the airline's public relations department in 1946. During World War II, he was an Army third service command's press and radio branch.

He was named chief of the airline's Washington public relations division in 1947, then served as assistant eastern regional public relations director in New York, district public relations representative in San Francisco and New England regional public relations director in Boston before going to Chicago.

He and his wife and two children live in Evanston, Ill.

sell said, "I do not believe that the Russians are 10 feet tall. I hope we can avoid any nuclear war because it would kill tens of millions of Americans while we are eliminating them."

SUPERIOR SYSTEM

Malinovsky claimed that the Soviet Union can "wipe off the earth all targets, industrial and administrative-political centers of the United States." He said it can "destroy completely the countries which have made available their territories for American war bases."

Russell called it "blast and bluster" and said Soviet Premier Khrushchev's decision to withdraw missiles and bombers from Cuba proved "we now have superior nuclear delivery systems."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana found nothing new in the Soviet threats. But Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the Russians should be answered and indicated he might have more to say on that score later.

Chief Bartlett Takes Over His

Duties Sunday: A better police department for Gettysburg, one which will reflect credit on this historic community, was pledged Sunday as Jack Bartlett, 100 York St., who retired Saturday as a corporal in the Pennsylvania State Police, took over his new duties as Gettysburg's chief of police.

There will, however be no "radical" changes made in the present set-up of the police department, Chief Bartlett told members of the police force at headquarters in the fire engine house Sunday afternoon. Three points were stressed in what Bartlett said he would expect from police officers: Courtesy, dress and co-operation.

Goethe Album Re-discovered:

An album containing three of Goethe's original poems, in his own handwriting, an envelope with a lock of his hair, a picture of his mother, and several poems written by friends and his daughter-in-law, was "re-discovered" today in the vault of the Gettysburg National Bank.

The author was Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, German poet, dramatist and prose writer, born at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Prussia, Aug. 28, 1749. He died at Weimar March 22, 1831.

The album, called almost priceless, was, according to Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, professor of German at Gettysburg College, presented by Goethe to the Countess Carolina von Egloffstein, lady in waiting to the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar, in 1817. According to Dr. Sundermeyer, he album was purchased by J. H. W. Stuckenberg, upon whom a honorary degree was conferred by the college in 1899, on a trip to Germany in 1891. His widow, Mrs. Mary Stuckenberg, resided in Gettysburg, at 49 Chambersburg St., for several years prior to her death. The album was presented to Gettysburg College in 1934 by a relative, Gertrude Gingrich.

It has remained in the vault of the bank since that time, although its existence was known and recorded at the bank. It was "re-discovered" by Richard Debus, business manager at the college.

Lieut. Shoop Takes New Post:

1st Lieut. Edwin L. Shoop Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Shoop, Lincolnway West, recently assumed his duties as special services officer for Marine Corps Aircraft Group 24 of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point, N. C.

Shoop is a Marine reservist who was recalled to active duty June 16, 1952, at the Naval Air Station at Willow Grove, and later transferred to Cherry Point. He served with the Marine Air Group 61 in World War II, for eight months in the Pacific Theater and until 1945 in the Philippine Islands.

Lieut. Shoop is a graduate of Gettysburg High School, class of 1941. He attended Gettysburg College, and prior to being recalled to active duty was an announcer and continuity writer at radio station WGET.

His wife, the former Lois Klinefelter, and their two children, Byron, 4, and Gwineth, 3, reside with Lieut. Shoop in Havelock, N. C.

Martin Will Reopen Store: Martin's Shoe Store, 29 Baltimore St., closed its doors Tuesday after serving residents of this area for nearly 13 years. About August 1 its proprietor, George R. Martin, expects to open a new store at a new location, but there will be no Martin's Shoe Store in Gettysburg until that time.

Mr. Martin was forced to close his store when the G. C. Murphy Co. took possession of the building. The latter firm will soon demolish the old site preparatory to erecting a new and much enlarged Murphy store.

Today's Talk

PLACES AND PEOPLE

The largest part of our love in this world is distributed between people and places. Some lavish this love upon one or two, and are satisfied, whereas with many it is distributed far and wide among both people and places.

The very thought of a place that has once endeared itself to us grows in our mind and we dream of the time when we are enabled to return to it. But to stay too long in a place often cheats us of its charm and fascination, though places differ from people in that they have but one language — the silent one!

With people, a too close association brings out the unlovely and often clouds the finer qualities to a distinct disadvantage.

It takes a very big and experienced human being to be standing — calm and patient. An over indulgence in the rich things of our material existence robs our finer sensibilities of that exquisite enjoyment of the occasional luxuries which spice life and which give to it that incentive for better things. Too much of anything dulls the glamor of it. This is true of people in their associations, and it is true of places.

"Distance lends enchantment" is a familiar phrase, and lives, because it is so true.

We gather but a handful of intimacies in people, but a thousand intimacies in nature keep rushing through our consciousness all through life. The scenes of our childhood, and the playgrounds of our youth, remain precious in our memory forever.

The glamor of wealth and fame grows dim and dull as age creeps on, but the beauties of the simpler things of life, and the humbler associations of our lives, increase as the shadows lengthen.

WORK AND FUN

Play is only pleasant when work must first be done.

Tis quitting shop and office that makes the ball field fun.

For he with no employment soon wears of his play.

And lives in want or boredom through many a dreary day.

A man must first be busy the thrill of sport to gain.

Who leaves no care behind him soon looks for fun in vain.

Who goes to golf for pleasure the right to play must earn.

And leave a job behind him to which he can return.

Tis hunger makes the dinner and work that makes the fun.

The appetite grown jaded the banquet board would shun.

A man must first be weary ere rest can be enjoyed.

Who would be happy playing by work must be employed.

WASHINGTON ADDRESS READ IN BOTH HOUSES EVERY YEAR

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—If George Washington were president today "I don't believe he would be faced with Cuba now," said Sen. Winston L. Prouty R-Vt.

"As a military man he would never have authorized the Bay of Pigs invasion without knowing it would be successful," he said. "If he had had doubts, he would not have authorized it. A man like Khrushchev could not understand why a nation as strong as ours would permit that sort of thing to fail."

READS FAREWELL

Prouty was reading over the First President's Farewell Address.

Washington himself never delivered that address written back in 1796.

But, according to a 1901 order of the U.S. Senate, the address is to be read in the Senate "on the 22nd day of February in each year, or if that shall be on Sunday, then on the day following."

Prouty was the man to read it Friday.

The House has no such order, but picked it up as a tradition in 1912. Yearly reading of the address didn't begin until 1933.

The House wasn't in session Friday, so it was read there Thursday by Rep. Laurence J. Burton, R-Utah.

Both Burton and Prouty read the address several times to themselves and at least one time out loud before delivering it on the floor.

CHANGED TIMES

Both said they thought that times had changed since Washington exhorted the people against foreign alliances.

"I don't think it's possible to disengage ourselves today—it may have been then," Burton said.

Prouty said he believed, if Washington were here today, "he would recognize that the policy of isolationism would probably not be practicable because of the great scientific progress that has been made."

The address, printed in Claypool's American Daily Advertiser, Philadelphia, Pa., on Sept. 19, 1796, runs 7,641 words.

It usually takes around 45 minutes for delivery, and usually only a handful of senators and representatives show up on the floor to hear it.

Burton finished the address in 42 minutes, just a minute more than the 41 minutes for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in 1957.

The firm which was formed in 1949, subscribed two-thirds of the necessary capital within a week after the decision was made public.

Increased facilities are necessary in the immediate future because Keystone state cherry growers this year, under normal conditions, will harvest about twice as many red sour cherries as they picked last year. Cherry production in Pennsylvania will continue to increase each year for the next five years as a result of expanded commercial plantings, M. E. Knope, president of Knope Foods, said.

Charlie Neal helped his batting average last year by hitting 425 against Houston. The Mets' infielder collected 17 hits in 40 at bats.

Navy Is Seeking HS Graduates

Chief Cramer, of the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, York, announced today that the Navy is seeking a number of high caliber high school graduates for placement in the Navy's Missile Electronics Technician Schools.

The high school graduate who volunteers and can qualify for this program will be enlisted in the Navy as a Polaris field Electronics technician, he said. Men choosing this particular field will first receive approximately nine weeks of training at one of the Recruit Training Centers located in Great Lakes, Ill., or San Diego, Calif. Upon completion of recruit training he would then be given a 14-day leave, after which he would report to one of the Navy's missile technician schools. The schools are designed to cover a wide area in the field of electronics. Students are trained in the maintenance and operation of the intricate guidance systems which deliver the Polaris missile to its targets. After graduation from the specialized technical school, these technicians are sent to the U.S. Navy Submarine School, New London, Conn., where they will receive an eight-week course designed to qualify them in submarines. Details concerning this specialized field is available at the local recruiting station without obligation.

PRESS AGENTS CONTINUE FIRE OF STATE NEWS

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The chattering machinery of government publicity has not been silenced by the change in administration.

There was some small thought at first that the change would reverse the publicity tide. But the flow goes on, unabated—labeled "news," "rush," "for immediate release," "bulletin."

This week a hot item from the Commerce Department disclosed: "Yellow Breeches Creek, which flows through Pennsylvania's resort town of Boiling Springs south of Carlisle, is lined with many beautiful old limestone homes and bars. Yellow Breeches abounds with trout and never freezes in the winter."

The same advisory also noted that Pennsylvania's official state animal, the white-tailed deer, was so designated in 1959.

Perhaps that was what inspired the game commission to release its own announcement labeled "news." It revealed that half of Pennsylvania's juvenile deer are females. Among adult deer, on the other hand, nearly 80 per cent are females.

The commerce department came up with this scoop: "For that mid-winter break, the nation will enjoy the first three-day weekend of 1963, beginning with Washington's birthday on Friday, Feb. 22."

HOLIDAY WEEKEND

Three days for bankers and government workers; two for the proletariat.

But spring is just around the corner, advised the health department, and soon the department's "division of sanitation will get into full swing in its soil science and entomology (study of insects) programs."

Gov. Scranton has been busy proclaiming a variety of "weeks."

DOCTORS URGE FLU VACCINES TO NIP SPREAD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Influenza cases in the United States continue to increase and medical authorities are urging vaccinations to combat the spreading outbreaks.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said today information compiled weekly from its 108 reporting cities across the nation show 759 pneumonia-influenza deaths during the week during Feb. 16. That is 54 deaths over the previous week.

The death toll is showing a continued marked increase in the South and Middle Atlantic states, the center said. The flu outbreaks reached epidemic proportions in areas along the Atlantic seaboard Jan. 15, and then moved westward.

NEW OUTBREAKS

States reporting flu outbreaks for the first time during the week which ended Feb. 16 were Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, Tennessee, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Michigan and New Jersey, the center said.

Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Michigan, Kansas, North Carolina, New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio and the District of Columbia.

A spokesman for the center said there is no cure as such for Asian flu, only treatment. The health agency is urging prevention through vaccination.

No figures are available for comparing the current epidemic with that of 1957, when Asian flu first hit this nation. But the spokesman said the death toll is not expected to approach the 1957 total because some immunity now has been built up.

One of them — March 1-8 — is Weights and Measures Week. That would be a good time to weigh some of the happy handouts and measure them for quick burial.

If you save vegetable cooking liquid, be sure to use it within a day or two. Refrigerate it, of course, in a covered container.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS—The Wesleyan Service Guild met last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Kenneth M. Hankey with Mrs. Hankey and Mrs. Shirley Spertzel serving as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Lester Wadel, presided. Mrs. Dale Williams was in charge of the devotions and program for the evening. The theme was "Race Relationship." The birthdays of Mrs. Virjean Hinkle, Mrs. Florence Chronister, Mrs. Margie Bittinger were honored and they were presented a Valentine birthday cake.

The program committee of the Bermuda Springs Band parents' organization met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crum, East Berlin, to plan for the final three meetings for this year. The committee consists of chairman, Mrs. Clay Snyder, Mrs. Ray Renicker and William Wenger. The program for March will include entertainment by the Stage Band from the high school. The committee plans to invite the Elementary and Junior High Band and their parents as guests for the evening. A social hour and refreshments will follow.

The Junior High School Band will provide the entertainment at the April meeting and Gary Crum will discuss band camp which will be held this summer at Newton-Hamilton at the May meeting.

Theater Concedes To Race Pickets

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A Baltimore movie theater opened its doors to both Negroes and whites Friday as a result of six days of picketing by college students.

Owners of the Northwood Theater agreed Thursday after a conference with Mayor Philip Goodman to integrate the movie house. Students from Morgan State College, Johns Hopkins University and Goucher College had staged mass demonstrations since last Friday.

About 340 chose to remain in jail rather than post more than $200,000 accumulated bail on charges of disorderly conduct on trespassing.

After the agreement was reached, attorney Robert Watts got an order from Judge Ansel Sodaro releasing the imprisoned

Weather Slows 75-Year-Old Hiker

MERCERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 75-year-old man hiked out of Mercersburg Friday, his plans to complete a 300-mile walk by Saturday apparently foiled by the weather.

Snow and biting wind slowed Alvin F. (Mote) Bergman's pace Thursday. He walked 42 miles from Bedford to Mercersburg before calling it quits, 11 miles short of his goal at Greencastle.

When he left Ambridge on Monday, Bergman had figured on hiking the 300 miles to Washington by Saturday. Now, he says, he probably won't arrive until Monday.

Bergman is a veteran long-distance walker who estimates he has walked 325,000 miles in his lifetime.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD—Final plans for a special party on March 19 and a record hop on April 5 were made Wednesday evening by members of the AMVETS Auxiliary. Mrs. Geraldine Coke, president, presided at the meeting at which Mrs. Alice Bushman reported on the central district meeting she attended in Lancaster in January. The next district meeting will be held in Hanover April 21.

The record hop will be held in the Cashtown Fire Hall.

The organization donated $24 to the state hospital fund and inducted Mrs. Rosalie Masser as a new member. The "Becky's Annual Award" was presented to Mildred Kepner. Mrs. Lottie Ool won the pig-in-the-poke prize.

No students have been indicted yet. However, State Atty. William J. O'Donnell said he would take witnesses to the grand jury Tuesday.

IRA RODGERS OF WVU DIES

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Ira Errett Rodgers, West Virginia University's first All-America football player and a member of the WVU athletic staff for 42 years, died today in University Hospital here. He was 67.

Rodgers had suffered from cancer for more than two years. He illness forced his retirement June 30, 1962.

A native of Bethany, W. Va., Rodgers coached West Virginia football, baseball and golf teams. In nine years as football coach, 1925-30 and 1943-45, his teams compiled a 44-31-8 record.

Rodgers coached baseball for 23 years, through 1944. He was golf coach for 13 years.

He led the nation's football scorers in 1919 with 147 points, including 49 in one game. Almost singlehandedly, he led the Mountaineers to a 25-0 victory over powerful Princeton.

He was named fullback and captain of Walter Camp's 1919 All-America team, then the official honor squad.

Mail Truck Hits Millerstown Home

MILLERSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A tractor-trailer hauling U. S. mail went out of control on icy Route 22-322 here Thursday night and rammed into two parked cars, one of which sheered off the front porch of a house.

The driver, James G. Patton Jr., was treated at the scene for superficial cuts and bruises. The nine occupants of the homes were unhurt.

Police Chief S. H. Zeiders said the truck was traveling south on its regular mail run from Altoona to Harrisburg when the accident occurred, less than 500 feet from the borough square.

TRIPLE TIE IS FACING UP IN HOCKEY SCRAP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That Eastern Division of the American Hockey League is staying so complicated it might take arbitration to get it unwound in time for the post-season playoffs.

After tonight's action, three teams could be locked in first place with the fourth place club only two points—one little victory—behind.

The scramble was set up Friday night when Providence shut out Quebec 3-0, a goal with 40 seconds left gave Baltimore a 3-2 victory over Hershey, and Springfield routed Cleveland 8-4. Now Providence and Hershey share first place with 62 points, Quebec is third with 60, and Springfield fourth with 58.

TRIPLE TIE LOOMS

Tonight, Providence is at Springfield and Quebec at Hershey and victories by Springfield and Quebec could set up a triple tie among Providence, Hershey and Quebec for first, with Springfield two points behind in fourth.

In the only other game on the Friday schedule, Rochester struck for four goals in a 7-minute second period and went on to spill the runaway leaders in the Western Division, Buffalo's Bisons, 7-4.

Goalie Ed Giacomin scored his third shutout of the season, his second against Quebec, in the victory that lifted Providence into a share of the Eastern Division lead with Hershey. George Ramieri, Zellie Toppazzini and Pierre Brilant were the goal scorers for Providence.

EACH SCORE TWICE

Bill Sweeney and Dennis O'Neil each scored twice for Springfield against Cleveland in leading the Indians to their sixth victory in the last seven games. The game was one of the roughest of the season with 58 minutes of penalties called, including a 10-minute misconduct and four majors for fighting.

Roger DeJordy apparently had salvaged a tie for Hershey with a goal with about 9 minutes to play before Baltimore's George Ford beat goalie Ed Chadwick with time running out. At Rochester, Johnny MacMillan, Lou Angotti and Jimmy Pappin each scored two goals as the Amers tightened their grip on the third playoff berth in the Western Division. Rochester now leads fourth place Pittsburgh by four points.

ARIZONA STATE TOPS WYOMING IN TITLE RACE

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Arizona State, ranked fourth in the nation and quietly eyeing all the marbles, has stormed past the last major obstacle in its path to the Western Athletic Conference basketball title and a spot in the NCAA western regional tournament.

Coach Ned Wulfspeed's Sun Devils raced past Wyoming 82-72 Friday night and all but nailed down the Conference title and the NCAA spot. The loss eliminated Wyoming from title consideration and left only Brigham Young with an outside chance of catching the team from Tempe.

LOSS UPSET GAME

The victory improved the Sun Devil conference record to 7-1—the only loss a previous upset by Wyoming—with two league games to go. They close out against New Mexico and Arizona, teams the Sun Devils have handled easily earlier this season. A victory in either secures at least a share of the top spot.

The triumph at Tempe took some of the sting out of an 88-61 upset at Wyoming earlier this season and advanced the Sun Devil season record to a sparkling 21-2.

In some of the other major games, Oregon State, an NCAA at large selection, blasted a good Southern California team 76-49 at Corvallis, Ore., homestanding Stanford strengthened its hold on the Big Six lead with a 73-69 overtime victory over UCLA while Penn and Princeton remained tied for the Ivy League lead, each with an 8-3 record. Penn edged Harvard 61-58 at Cambridge, Mass., and Princeton romped over Dartmouth 84-59 at Hanover, N.H.

Seattle pinned a 77-72 loss on Idaho on the Vandals home court while San Jose scored a 49-48 upset of West Coast Athletic Conference leader San Francisco at San Jose.

In other games, Yale whipped Columbia 83-71, Cornell bombed Brown 69-50, St. Bonaventure crushed favored Niagara 87-63, Syracuse rallied and caught Boston College 55-54, Clemson edged Virginia 52-50, Oregon beat Washington State 63-70, the Air Force edged Denver 64-61 in two overtimes and Arizona clipped New Mexico 49-46.

Wichita Invited To Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—The prize Wichita's Wheatshockers wanted for upsetting top-ranked Cincinnati has been offered and accepted—a berth in the 28th National Invitation basketball tournament.

Wichita was named to the NIT Friday, becoming the sixth entry for the 12-team tournament which will be staged in Madison Square Garden March 14-23.

The Wheatshockers, ranked seventh nationally, pulled one of the sunners of the season last Saturday night at Wichita when they nipped Cincinnati 65-64, snapping the Bearcats' winning string at 37 games. Wichita currently has a 16-6 record with four games to play.

NEW OXFORD, Eastern Division champs, started slowly but picked up steam in the second half to clinch Fannett-Metal 67-40 at Fannett-Metal Friday evening.

The victory gives the Colonials an overall 17-3 mark for the season, best in the county.

A half time the Colonials led only 23-21 but they outclassed the Tigers completely in the second half to win with ease.

Dave Meckley, John Harner and Bill Dubbs hit the corks for 17, 15 and 10 points for New Oxford while Clayton and Gipe netted 11 and 10 for Fannett-Metal.

New Oxford closes its A-F schedule Tuesday by entertaining James Buchanan and next Thursday opposes Upper Dauphin in a Class C PIAA playoff game on the Camp Hill floor. Later the Colonials will meet Greencastle, Western Division titlist, for the overall Adams-Franklin League championship.

BOLTS TRIUMPH

Littletown dominated play from start to finish in whipping Bermudian Springs before a large parents' night crowd at Littletown 72-43. It was the seventh win in their last 10 starts for the Bolts who used an all-court press throughout.

The Thunderbolts, outscoring their opponents in each frame, held a 32-21 lead at half time and then connected for 40 points in the last half.

Dale Blair, Terry Arbogast and Fred Snyder hit in double figures for the Bolts with 23, 13 and 11 tallies. Jim Eshleman and Joe Wolf landed 12 and 11 for the Eagles. Eddie Kozt controlled the boards for Littletown.

ROBIN ROBERTS HAS JOB, NEW LEASE ON LIFE

MIAMI (AP)—Robin Roberts of the Baltimore Orioles is a pitcher with a job and, at 36, a new lease on life.

Ten months ago, the one-time right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies couldn't make that statement. Ignored in the National League expansion draft and dropped by the New York Yankees, Roberts was in the baseball breadlines, begging for employment.

Today, everybody's choice as the "comeback athlete of the year" after winning 10 games for seventh-place Baltimore, Roberts let the secret out.

He owes it all, he says, to a nee pitch—second cousin to the screwball—which he borrowed from Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Johnny Antonelli.

REFUSED TO QUIT

The critics had contended that Roberts, six times a 20-game winner, was over the hill after that dismal 1-10 record for the 1961 Phillies and because he stubbornly refused to develop an extra pitch after he lost his fast ball.

Last spring, after purchasing his contract from Philadelphia, the Yankees gave Roberts a trial at their Fort Lauderdale camp.

There was a sad parting with the Yankees, but Roberts refused to quit on himself. He asked Baltimore's general manager, Lee MacPhail, and manager Billy Hitchcock for a tryout. Last May 21 he signed an Oriole contract.

In desperation, he tried a let-up pitch he had seen Spahn and Antonelli use with effect in the National League. Roberts releases it with an overspin flick of the right wrist and it sinks down and away from left-handed hitters.

Roberts concedes that the fast ball which accounted for many of his 244 big league victories doesn't overpower the hitters any more. But he believes it gained velocity with regular work for the Orioles last year, and looks faster because of the contrast with his new pitch.

PITT AND STATE VIE FOR BID TO CAGE TOURNEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—It has been a good many years since anything but pride was at stake when rivals Pitt and Penn State met on the basketball court.

But tonight a possible bid to the NCAA post-season cage tournament will be on the line in a game at the Pitt Field House.

An NCAA spokesman said earlier this week that an at-large berth in the NCAA tournament would probably go to the winner of the game. And even though both teams lost on Wednesday, their tourney chances apparently have not been hindered.

Both teams are in the midst of their best basketball seasons in years.

HAVE 16-5 RECORD

Coach Bob Timmons has guided Pitt to a 16-5 record, the best mark since his 1958 squad won 18 and lost 7 and played in the NCAA tournament.

Penn State is making its finest showing since the glamor days of Jesse Arnelle in 1953 and 1954. The Lions have a 14-4 record, the best under coach John Egli.

One of those defeats was a 68-48 decision to Pitt in December. But the Lions have come along fast since then, and would like nothing better than to avenge the loss.

Pitt also has a chance for a National Invitational Tournament bid. The NIT offered the Panthers a berth on Monday, but Pitt turned it down, saying it was obligated to the NCAA.

Whether the Panthers would still get an NIT bid if they lose tonight had not been announced.

Pensupreme Offers Baseball Equipment

Midget League, Little League and other youth league baseball teams can acquire Wilson baseball equipment under a special program announced today by Penn Dairies, Inc., Lancaster.

According to John Garber, Penn Dairies' president, the Pensupreme ice cream baseball equipment giveaway program will permit youth teams to receive good quality baseball equipment under an ice cream carton redemption system which is being outlined to team managers throughout its seven-state marketing area.

Under the giveaway plan, teams will be able to obtain baseball equipment free merely for saving from tear flaps from half gallon cartons of the company's Pensupreme brand ice cream. Among the Wilson items offered are a complete catcher's outfit including mask, leg guards, body protector and catcher's mitt; fielder's glove, batter's helmets, bases, bats, ball, flip sunglasses and a pitcher's rubber.

Managers and officials of all youth league baseball organizations may obtain full information about the equipment giveaway program by writing Pensupreme Baseball, Lancaster.

Playoff Tickets On Sale At New Oxford

Advance ticket sales will start Monday at the New Oxford High School office for the New Oxford-Upper Dauphin PIAA District 3, Class C basketball game next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Camp Hill.

Student tickets are 80 cents if purchased at the school. No student tickets will be sold at the game. Adult tickets are $1 whether purchased at the school or at the game. In offering the advanced sale for convenience of fans, New Oxford officials pointed out only a limited supply is available.

New Oxford, coached by Ellis Divinye, has compiled an overall 17-3 record date and in doing so won the Eastern Division title of the Adams-Franklin League. The Colonials will meet Greencastle later for the overall league diadem.

The winner of next Thursday's game will meet the winner of the Wyomissing or West Reading vs. South Lebanon game on March 4.

BERRA TO WORK AS FIRST BASE YANKEE COACH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yogi Berra, who has become one of baseball's legends in his 16 seasons as all-star catcher and sometime outfielder with the New York Yankees, has reverted to rookie status.

Yogi is breaking in as first base coach for the Yankees at their spring training layout at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Actually, at $45,000 Berra is expected to do more than direct traffic at first this season.

He'll be carried on the roster as an active player, acting as the Yanks' No. 3 catcher behind Elston Howard and John Blanchard, and also as a reserve outfielder and prime left-handed pinch hitter.

WORKS NEW JOB

But right now the rotund veteran is concentrating on his new job as coach, pointing toward the Yankees' 30 exhibition games for some handy pre-season seasoning.

"I'll try to make all my mistakes down here, before the season opens," Berra says.

"I have to learn how to help some of our faster men get that extra base on hits to the outfield once I have studied the outfielders on the other clubs and know their arms and their speed in getting to the ball, I can help our guys more."

As a catcher Berra was a non-stop talker, keeping up running conversations with opposing batters, umpires, batboys and anyone else handy. As a coach, that's a habit he won't have to break. He'll always have a built-in captive audience of one—the other club's first baseman.

TRY NEW GIMMICK

The Los Angeles Angels are going to try a new training aid gimmick today—instant television. A video tape recording of their workout will be made over a closed circuit and played back immediately.

Manager Bill Rigney says the system could have "intriguing possibilities for analyzing hitting or pitching form and other aspects of the game."

Also on the mechanical front, the Washington Senators stepped up their training Friday with the pitchers practicing b

Better Barn Ventilation Cuts Danger Of Pneumonia

FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Many Pennsylvania dairy herds are plagued every winter by pneumonia. Symptoms vary from a chronic coughing, which may persist all winter, to an acute, severe outbreak in which several of the animals have pneumonia. This disease can cut milk production as much as 74 per cent.

Frank S. Zettel

Barn pneumonia may be caused by several different organisms, but poor ventilation is usually the stressor which enables the disease to get started. Agricultural engineers at Penn State recommend that fans be installed to provide 200 cubic feet of air per thousand-pound cow per minute.

A good ventilation system contributes to cow comfort and greater disease resistance. Cows feel better and work better when the barn temperature is close to 55 degrees, and they have plenty of fresh air to breathe. This practice also is important from the standpoint of quality milk production. Veterinarians often use repeated doses of mixed bacterins to improve pneumonia resistance in problem herds, but the results with these shots are poor when ventilation is poor. Barn pneumonia is one of a number of wintertime diseases which can be controlled effectively by providing a comfortable environment for cows during the stabling period.

PRUNE TREES IN WINTER

Winter or early spring is the best time to prune plantation trees. Whether it pays to prune or not depends upon the general condition of the plantation and its trees. Pruning is a slow and tedious job, but in an otherwise well-managed forest it helps to produce the large, straight, clear logs that command top prices in timber sales. Prune only straight healthy trees which are spaced about 15 feet apart each way. Others will need to be removed in several thinnings before the best trees become sawtimber. In general, trees at first pruning should be fairly young, 4 to 6 inches in diameter, so the branches to be taken off will be no more than 2 inches thick. At this age cuts heal fast and leave only small knots.

Pruning cuts should be close to the trunk because stubs take too long to heal and may let in rot or insects. Not more than two-thirds of the total height of the tree, nor more than the lower third of the live crown, should be pruned at once. A second pruning in a few years may be necessary to get a clear 16-foot log or, on the best timber, to get long clear poles or two clear logs. A fairly heavy pruning saw, with a blade 12 to 18 inches long, is the best tool. Pruning high branches with a ladder does the best job, but a pruning saw on a long pole may be safer and more convenient.

CONTENTS IMPORTANT

Hard, soft, iron and sulfur are terms generally used in describing water. Water hardness is measured in terms of grains, and any dealer in water treating equipment can test your water to see if it is unusually hard or not. Any reading above six grains is considered hard water. These principal methods are used for removing hardness from water: employ a commercial filtering service, or use prepared chemicals or special detergents containing harmless chemicals which neutralize calcium and magnesium in the water being treated.

What is the advantage of soft water? On a poultry farm, soft water cleans eggs faster and more economically. On a dairy farm, the same thing applies to equipment used. Homemakers find soft water cleans clothes and dishes better and easier using less soap and detergent. Soft water is easier on their skin and Farm Mortgages Up—Farm mortgages made or recorded in the first half of 1962 were up 15 per cent over the same period in 1961, reports Fred Hughes, extension farm management specialist with the Pennsylvania State University. The overall volume of lending was the largest for any six-month period since the beginning of 1964.

Use Annual Flowers—You can find annual flowers for almost any purpose. Annuals can be used to add summer color to a spring-flowering rock garden, cover up dying spring foliage, in large beds, for edging and for window and porch boxes, suggests Mrs. Lynn B. Smith, extension floriculturist with the Pennsylvania State University.

Delay Pruning—You will have more roses on your rose bushes this summer if you delay pruning until March. A. C. Rasmussen, Pennsylvania State University extension ornamental specialist, advises that this practice applies to all roses except the climbers, which should be pruned after they bloom.

Hands. Iron in wash water used on eggs is not troublesome unless it exceeds five parts per million. Bacteriologists have discovered that water exceeding this amount causes rapid growth of an organism which develops black rots. Egg producers and others can check their water without elaborate equipment if they take a clean, clear glass, fill it with water and let it stand for 24 hours. If the water is clear after that time, it has less than four parts per million of iron. More than that it gives a reddish-brown cast to the water.

Commercial filters or aeration and chlorine can be used to remove iron from water if it is necessary. There is no public health hazard in water with iron. Sulfur in water may concern egg producers because of its odor. Sulfur is the characteristic rotten egg odor with which many of us are familiar. Aeration in the preferred method for removing sulfur from water. Commercial filters are also available. Deep well water is not likely to contain sulfur, but surface water, particularly that from flooded areas of heavy vegetation such as lowlands and swamps, is likely to.

LIFE SENTENCE GIVEN SLAYER OF STUDENT

BAXLEY, Ga. (AP)—Georgia law has meted out a life prison term for the roadside knife death of a young Pennsylvanian and drawn the commendation of a relative of the youth.

A 39-year-old truck driver, Wilton Edwards, the father of five, was given the life sentence Thursday for the stabbing of Nicholas Matthew Cascario, 19, of Bangor, Pa., on the night of Dec. 29 in a car bumping incident.

The sentence was pronounced by Judge W. Dan Flexer after an Appaling County Superior Court jury convicted Edwards of murder but recommended mercy, he verdict made a life term mandatory.

PARENTS LEAVE

The slain youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Cascario, had been present when the trial began Monday but left for Florida Wednesday after the mother broke down in the courtroom.

An uncle, John A. Frinzi of Easton, Pa., remained. After the trial he said the family had come to Georgia not for revenge but as a moral obligation.

"It wasn't like some people might have thought it would be down here," Frinzi said. "I can't praise enough Sheriff J. B. Carter, Solicitor General Jack Ballenger and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation for their work in this case. Georgia should be very proud to have such law enforcement officials."

Still to be tried, at a later court term, is a 19-year-old nephew of the convicted man, Robert Edwards, who also was indicted for murder. A lighter sentence is in prospect for him if he is convicted, since his uncle says that although he and Robert were riding together, the youth had no part in the fatal encounter.

The older Edwards pleaded self defense, claiming that a car occupied by Cascario and a companion, Don Fiorot, also of Bangor both Penn State students, bumped the Edwards auto from the road and the youth attacked him.

Fiorot, however, testified that it was their car that was bumped off the highway and that Cascario was knifed and left dying by the roadside when he went to protest. The Pennsylvanians were returning from a holiday trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Want To Sell York Navy Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—An admiral told a House armed services subcommittee Friday employment at York, Pa., will decline if the Navy is not allowed to sell its ordnance plant there to private industry.

Rear Adm. W. T. Hines, deputy chief of the Bureau of Naval Weapons, said the Navy will have to close the facility during 1965 if the sale plan is not approved.

Some 175 of the plant's 1,100 employees took advantage of the Washington's birthday holiday to attend the hearing and hear their representatives oppose the sale. William H. Ryan, president of

Nab Boy After A Wild Chase

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—State police said they would file charges today against a New Jersey youth whom they accused of leading them on a 15-mile chase in which one trooper was knocked down and two cars sideswiped.

No one was hurt in the chase, which began on Route 11 west of here and ended one half mile west of Camp Hill on the Harrisburg Expressway.

Held overnight at the Carlisle barracks was Joseph F. Nezynski, 19, Newark, N.J. Authorities quoted him as saying he was wanted in Virginia for a similar incident.

Cpl. Stanley Krammes said Nezynski's car brushed by him, throwing him to the highway, as he was attempting to wave the vehicle down. Krammes gave chase in his patrol car and was joined by two other state police cruisers.

During the chase, Krammes said, Nezynski sideswiped a police car and a car driven by Carroll W. Leidigh of Carlisle.

Floods. Damage was estimated at $66 million.

Peter Hicks, London fruit and vegetable dealer, has installed an electrifying unit in his auto as an anti-theft device. Anyone touching the vehicle is greeted by a blue flash and an electric shock. Hicks says it may be a coincidence but, since he installed the device, "I haven't had a single parking ticket. Before that, I used to get one almost every day."

Congressional Stalemate Aided By Medicare Bill

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's medical care program, due to go to Congress today, won't relieve the general dreariness which has settled over Washington like an umbrella. It will just add to it.

It will be just one more program wrapped up by Kennedy and handed to Congress, with the chance dim, indeed, for anything coming of it. That's about par for the course so far in 1963.

January and February this year have been the two dulllest opening months of any year in a long time, even though Kennedy's Democrats outnumber the Republicans as they did in 1962 and 1961 and for years before that.

At least the President can claim credit for prophecy when, despite the size of his party's margin, he said last Dec. 17 all his controversial proposals would be "closely contested."

NO SENATE ACTION

Nothing better illustrates the stalemate in the Capital and the Capitol than what's happening in the Senate. It has done practically nothing and shows no signs of doing anything any time soon.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Wednesday complained bitterly to his fellow-senators for "demeaning ourselves" by wasting six weeks squabbling instead of legislating.

The early weeks were consumed in a fruitless fight between the out-numbered liberals of both parties and the Southern Democrats, with the former trying to change the rules to make it easier to shut off a Southern filibuster.

This has been tried so many times, and failed so often with the outcome always predictable, that it has become a kind of traditional tribal dance. That fight's finished for 1963.

Now the senators have themselves boxed in on another dispute, this time about procedure and committee assignments. Sen. Mansfield will have to be a very powerful medicine man to get his Senate braves on the legislative path.

TWO MAJOR PHASES

Kennedy has so far sent two major programs to Congress, one a gigantic combination calling for tax cuts and tax reforms, all in one package, and the other proposing federal aid to education practically clear across the board.

At first Kennedy said his tax program was needed to stimulate consumer buying and business investment. Then, as if having second thoughts, he said it was also needed to prevent a recession.

This program, as was expected, has been hit from all directions by special interest groups. The whole business became more complicated, and therefore looked more unworkable, by the marriage of cuts and revisions.

INDIFFERENCE TO BILL

A sort of indifference has enveloped Kennedy's huge education program from the start. It's a 24-point aid proposal for the nation's schools from grammar grades up through graduate school and even private colleges and universities.

Last year Kennedy's medical care program—for which he did almost no public fighting except for one off-the-cuff broadcast from Madison Square Garden—landed in the soup.

There's no reason the one going to Congress won't land in the same moist grave, along with the education program, since Kennedy before Congress even came back this year expressed skepticism about both their chances.

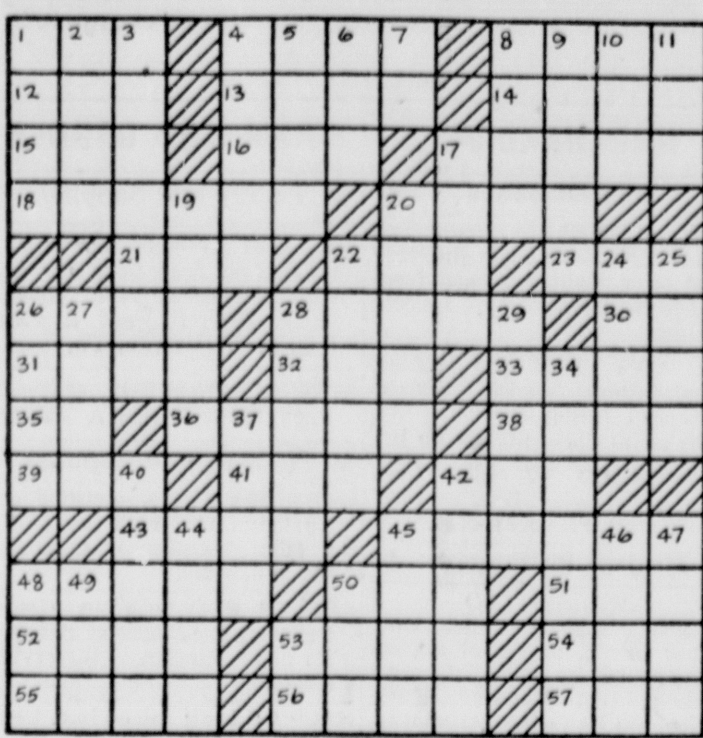

While Congress has been blocking traffic, there have been no police sirens from the White House, either.

BABY IS LOST

KELSO, Wash. (AP) — More than 300 persons spent Washington's Birthday looking for little Allen Moyer, 3½, who disappeared Thursday afternoon.

A bloodhound, brought to this little Southwest Washington town, picked up tracks toward dark Friday about two miles from the youngster's home. There are num-

Illness Closes Parochial School

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An influenza outbreak among teachers has closed a second parochial school in the Pittsburgh district.

St. Peter's School on the city's South Side was closed Friday. St. Gabriel's in suburban Whitehall had been closed down Thursday.

Absenteeism among teachers increased 50 per cent at St. Peter's, school officials said. Student absenteeism was up only two per cent.

Officials said both schools may be open by Monday.

City public school authorities said absenteeism was up four to seven per cent in the school system but no public schools were closed.

erous sloughs in the area.

Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moyer, disappeared after playing with a neighbor's son.

Victor Borge Prepares For His 1963 Television Show On ABC February 25

For his annual television performance Victor Borge has composed an original piece called "Concerto for Two Pianos and Two Conductors." The hour-long special program (ABC-TV) originates from the new New York Philharmonic Hall.

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

They say you can't buy happiness — but year after year people from Boston to Bombay find the price of a ticket to a Victor

Borge "concert" buys a fair-sized chunk of the elusive stuff. Television audiences get an even better break in one way — just tune him in. Trouble is, he doesn't come any oftener than Christmas, just once a year.

Network rivalry is high for the honor of presenting "The Victor Borge Show" and ABC-TV is the lucky network this year . . . and this is the week! (Monday, February 25, 9 p.m. EST). Aiding and abetting the — you will forgive the expression? "Great Dane"—will be the much-admired French pantomimist, Marcel Marceau, and pianist, Lenoid Hambro.

LINCOLN CENTER DEBUT

This show also marks Borge's debut at the New York Philharmonic Hall at Lincoln Center and the Philharmonic's debut as the locale for a variety telecast. No one is more excited about this happenstance than Borge himself. He's always felt that more of the spontaneous hilarity he achieves minute-after-minute without let-up on stage (he really shows an audience no mercy) would come across more faithfully on TV if he could do the show from a real theater or concert hall.

Every year he's hoped for Carnegie Hall and every year something thwarted him. Last year, of all things, another famous kinder-of-music, Jack Benny, got there first and Borge had to settle for "one of those box-like things they sometimes use for television theaters." Totally lacking, obviously, in that festive elegance he feels the audience warms up to as much as he does himself.

SHAPING A TV FORMAT

I was lucky enough to get an exclusive advance interview with him a few days ago to see what I could find out and pass along on how things are shaping up at rehearsal and what's in store for Monday.

A covey of writers filed out of his suite in New York's lovely old Plaza Hotel as I walked in . . . so I started with questions about writers. How does he get along with writers for TV when he develops all his stage material himself?

He gets along just fine, thank you (so do they, I might add. All of them looked smiling and unfrantic). He finds them stimulating was the gist and he values the many viewpoints and opinions they represent. The composition of a television audience represents a greater variety of tastes than one theater full of people he explained and added, "It is my responsibility to give them the best entertainment I possibly can." This is one time he wasn't kidding, he meant it. Like the late Fred Allen, though, I'll gamble that even with all that top talent around, the most prolific Borge writer is the "Clown Prince" himself.

He elaborated on "responsibility" saying, "I tell my children you are 'allowed' to do this or that

Victor Borge

If you also remember you are responsible for doing it well." What he said next brought back an incident of a couple of years ago on Madison Ave. You know sometimes you walk down a street see a familiar face, then realize it isn't a "nodding acquaintance" after all — but rather a "celebrity face" I hadn't met him then so I did what the rest of the passersby were doing, shifted my gaze and scurried by. Now I find he's as interested in us as we are in him. We're audience. When a stranger flashes by he says he often asks himself, "I wonder what I could say or do in my act that would appeal to this person, that would make that man laugh." Responsibility.

WHY NOT MORE?

On stage only Borge knows what Borge will do next and he's got that down to such exuberant perfection he can follow his own instantaneous whim and bring it off to a roar of applause. Not so on television. "You have to keep one eye and a lot of your attention on the monitor. It's not just you expressing yourself. The director must also express himself and so must the cameraman. Suppose, without warning, I decide to do something with my feet that would be apropos and humorous . . . and suppose the camera is just catching me from the waist up. . . ."

With one show a year, there's enough time for smoothing things out. Then, too, when would he find the time? He leaves five days after the telecast for a tour that will keep him shuttling around the world for five months.

ADMIRE MARCEAU

"We've talked about me quite long enough," he said politely. "Let me tell you instead about Marcel Marceau. Wait until you see him. He does two gay circusy things and our director has captured the essence of his performance better than anyone ever has for TV. We also do an act together."

"What is it like?" I begged. The answer was as sly as Victor Borge and as silent as Marcel Marceau. I think it means "well tune in and see." I got the same answer when I asked about his special composition for the program, "Concerto for Two Pianos and Two Conductors."

I got another typically Borge answer when I asked if he'd known Marceau before. "Let's say I collected all his records," he said with triumphant good humor — which, since it concerns a pantomimist, leads you nowhere except to the next question.

"SERIOUS" MUSICIAN

Borge, who was trained as a concert pianist, found his sense of humor getting the better of him very early with music becoming instead an accessory to his highly individual, inimitable, contagious humor. When the Nazis occupied his native Denmark during World War II they officially resented and feared his barbs and put a price on his head. He managed to flee to the United States in 1940, learned his basic English at double feature movies, made one appearance on Bing Crosby's radio show, was promptly signed to 52 more weeks, and has been a giant in the entertainment field ever since.

When he is home these days, "home" is in Connecticut on his 450-acre ViBo Farms (original purveyor and popularizers, incidentally, of frozen Rock Cornish Hens). When Denmark honored him in 1949 with the Royal Order of Dannebrog I'm told he said, "I feel like a Connecticut Yankee in King Frederik's Court." When I asked him how the Danes feel about losing him to America he shrugged, "Oh, I think they're probably still celebrating."

ARE TEEN-AGERS

Are any of his children going into the theater? "Certainly, any time they buy a ticket." (No, they haven't shown show business inclinations and he hasn't prodded.) The children are teen-agers Sanna (named for her mother); Victor Bernardt and seven-year-old Frederikke. The younger Victor is not "Junior" — he's nicknamed "VeBe" pronounced "Vee-Bee."

The National League career record for assists by a first baseman is 1,365 set by Fred C. Tenney at the turn of the century. Gil Hodges of the Mets is close with eight less.
